SAILORS NEARLY DROWNED

Result of Trying to Row Boat and Flirt with Girls at Same Time

Two sailors of the steamship Belond, which is at present unloading coal at the Western Coal and Dock company docks at Waukegan, had an exceedingly narrow escape from drowning in the harbor Monday while two of their friends, also members of the same crew, had the pleasure of receiving a ducking.

The four sailors, all elderly men, had been enjoying a ride about the harbor in a small row boat. Accidentally one of them started a flirtation with a number of young ladies on the excursion steamer Pere Marquette. In the excitement he stood up in the boat and lost his balance, thus capsizing the small boat.

Two of the number were able to swim, the other two could not swim a stroke. The two who were able to swim, according to reports, were unable to aid their fellow crew members.

The quick action of members of the excursion steamship's crew alone saved the two sailors from drowning.

Both had descended into the waters of the harbor twice and one was going down for the third time when a life preserver fell into his hands. The life preserver had with fifteen others been thrown from off the excursion steamship by members of its crew.

A small boat was lowered and the two half drowned sailors were conveyed to their ship, the Belond.

The incident happened at the same spot where one of the members of the crew of the Pere Marquette met his death on Sunday two weeks ago.

APPLE CROP TO BE SHORT THIS YEAR

The apple crop in Illinois is unmistakably short.

Reports from various apple growing communities throughout the state rung from total failures to an average of from fifteen to twenty per cent of the different varieties grown. In some places the lack of fruit has caused much comment among the apple growers. At Nooga the prospects were so discouraging that horticulturists from the University of Illinois were asked to investigate the trees and their reports will be awaited with interest.

FUN & A VITAL NECESSITY.

Can by No Means Be Regarded as an Incidental of Life.

In the case of Shurtliff, he faces a most trying situation, one which will be interesting as he extricates himself free from it.

Some time ago Shurtliff stated openly that he would vote for senator as the people of the district ordered him to do; it is stated that he did this on the belief that there wasn't a chance in the world that Hopkins wouldn't get the majority vote of the district.

The role of Lake County, McHenry and Boone (comprising the 8th senatorial district) gave a majority vote for Foss for senator and the men who will be elected to the legislature will have to decide whether the new primary law means they shall vote for senator as the people of their district declare or as the majority of the people of the state taken as a whole instruct.

With this district having instructed for Foss and with the whole state going for Hopkins, they are already figuring out "What shall we do?"

In the case of Mr. Stearns, who, with Shurtliff, is insured of election, it is said that he has not yet taken up the matter for consideration, that he intends to leave it off as long as possible. He is said to fully realize the precarious condition of affairs and he will have to deliberate carefully.

Many think of fun as frivolous, indicating lack of serious purpose in life. There are parents who rebuke their children because they want to have fun and go in for a good time. These parents have yet to learn the great part which fun and humor play in the physical economy, and their influence on the life.

With this condition developed, the question is what will Shurtliff do? Will he feel obliged to stick to his promise to abide by the decision of the people of the district or will he feel that his loyalty to Mr. Hopkins and his friends requires his effort and thus stick by the instructions of the state as a whole?

HARD PROBLEM TO SOLVE

Shall Shurtliff and Stearns Abide by Vote of State or of This District

TO FACE TRYING POSITION

Stearns Said to Have Not Committed Himself as Yet—Situation is Interesting

Seeing that George Edmund Foss and William Mason have not yet given up their hopes of landing the senatorial trown, the situation develops points of interest and Lake county and the 8th senatorial district is especially interested in the situation.

The two republican nominees, A. K. Stearns of Lake and E. D. Shurtliff of McHenry, have a difficult problem before them in view of the comprising condition which has developed.

The situation which they confront is this: The state has given Mr. Hopkins a majority vote which, under the primary law, is believed to insure his election and few persons appear to feel any lack of confidence that such will be the case.

The role of Lake county, McHenry and Boone (comprising the 8th senatorial district) gave a majority vote for Foss for senator and the men who will be elected to the legislature will have to decide whether the new primary law means they shall vote for senator as the people of their district declare or as the majority of the people of the state taken as a whole instruct.

DECLARED WORSE THAN CANCER.

Husband's Deep Scheme Revealed in Strictest Confidence.

One Harlem, N. Y., matron was discussing with another Harlem matron the misfortune which she considered had befallen the husband of a third Harlem matron.

"You see," she said, "he went down to the steamer with a friend who was going abroad, and became so interested talking in the friend's cabin that he never noticed the warning whistle, and the steamer sailed with him on board. However, he sent a telegram to his wife, so she wouldn't worry. I dare say he's been kicking himself about the ship ever since."

"Perhaps—and perhaps not," replied the second Harlem matron. "The fact is, he told my husband he intended to be carried off to Europe accidentally, because it was the only way he could go without taking his wife along. But for heaven's sake, don't mention the matter, my dear, because he told my husband in the strictest confidence."

Schubert's Birthplace.

The city of Vienna has purchased the house in which Franz Schubert was born and intends to preserve it in its present condition as long as possible. The price paid was £4,400. The house is one of the old-fashioned, one-story types of buildings, which are fast disappearing from modern Vienna. The front is utterly devoid of any attractive features, but there is a little court behind with wooden galleries and a garden on the steep hillside.

TO HELP FARM LIFE

PRESIDENT PLANS TO SEND MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

SELECTS FIVE EXPERTS

Chief Executive Asks Them to Investigate Conditions and Report Recommendations for Improvements.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—With a view to bringing about better social sanitary and economic conditions on American farms, President Roosevelt has requested five experts on country life to make an investigation into the whole matter and to report to him with recommendations for improvements. The report and recommendations, with any additional recommendations which the president himself may desire to make, will be incorporated in a message which the president will send to congress probably early next year.

The men President Roosevelt has asked to act as investigating committee are Prof. L. H. Bailey of the New York College of Agriculture, Henry Wallace of Wallace's Farmer, Dos Moline, Ia.; President Kenyon L. Butterfield of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, Oxford; Plachot of the United States forest service and Walter H. Page, editor of the World's Work, New York.

President Outlines His Plan.

In a letter to Prof. Bailey, asking him to accept the chairmanship of the commission, the president outlines his desire in the direction of improvements on the farms. The letter follows in part:

"My dear Prof. Bailey: No nation has ever achieved permanent greatness unless this greatness was based on the well-being of the great farmer class, the men who live on the soil; it is upon their welfare, material and moral, that the welfare of the rest of the nation ultimately rests. In the United States, disregarding certain sections and taking the nation as a whole, I believe it to be true that the farmers in general are better off today than they ever were before. We Americans are making great progress in the development of our agricultural resources. But it is equally true that the social and economic institutions of the open country are not keeping pace with the development of the nation as a whole. The farmer, is, as a rule, better off than his forebears; but his increase in well-being has not kept pace with that of the country as a whole."

"While the condition of the farmers in some of our best farming regions leaves little to be desired, we are far from having reached so high a level in all parts of the country. In portions of the south, for example, where the department of agriculture, through the farmers' co-operative demonstration work of Dr. Knapp is directly instructing more than 30,000 farmers in better methods of farming, there is nevertheless much unnecessary suffering and needless loss of efficiency on the farm.

Importance of Farmer's Wife.

It is especially important that whatever will serve to prepare country children for life on the farm, and whatever will brighten home life in the country and make it richer and more attractive for the mothers, wives, and daughters of farmers, should be done promptly, thoroughly and gladly. There is no more important person, measured in influence upon the life of the nation, than the farmer's wife, no more important home than the country home, and it is of national importance to do the best we can for both."

"The farmers have hitherto had less than their full share of public attention along the lines of business and social life. There is too much belief among all our people that the prizes of life lie away from the farm. I am therefore anxious to bring before the people of the United States the question of securing better business and better living on the farm, whether by co-operation between farmers for buying, selling and borrowing; by promoting social advantages and opportunities in the country; or by any other legitimate means that will help to make country life more joyful, more attractive, and fuller of opportunities, pleasures and rewards for the men, women and children of the farms."

HARRY THAW A BANKRUPT

RECEIVER APPOINTED AT PITTSBURG AT HIS REQUEST.

Petition Says Many Creditors Are Seeking to Enforce Unjust Claims—Liabilities $453,140.

Pittsburg, Pa.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed after eight o'clock Friday night in the United States court by Attorney Morschauer of New York, representing Harry K. Thaw, who is now confined in the Dutchess county (N. Y.) jail.

In the petition Thaw states that his assets are $128,012.32 and his liabilities $453,140.43.

Roger O'Mara, a well-known Pittsburg detective and personal friend of the Thaw family, was appointed as receiver. His bond was placed at $200,000, and John Newell and James W. Platt, two prominent business men of this city, became securities for Mr. O'Mara.

The most interesting information given regarding the proceedings is to be found in the petition asking for the appointment of receiver in which it is alleged that the action is taken for the purpose of preventing his property being dissipated in litigation over claims, many of which are unjust. The figures in the bankruptcy petition show that this refers to the lawyers and doctors.

Thaw states that he is confined in jail in Dutchess county, N. Y., and is likely to be there for some time. He says some of his creditors have commenced suits against him and others are contemplating similar action. He is unable, he says, to give the litigation his attention, owing to the confinement.

Loans amounting to $191,500 from his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, are not disputed.

Among the disputed claims are the following: John B. Gleason, New York, $80,000; Hartridge & Peabody, New York, $60,000; J. J. Graham, Newburg, N. Y., $2,954; Dr. Hammond, New York, $1,000; Dr. Wagner, Ilion, Hamon, N. Y., $4,040; Dr. Jolliffe, New York, $5,245; Dr. Jones, Morrisville, N. J., $0,000; Martha Littleton, New York, $8,056; Dr. Hamilton, New York, $12,000; Dr. Dana, New York, $1,000.

RELIEF FOR ELK RIVER VICTIMS.

Aid in Form of Provisions and Clothing Sent to Sufferers.

Fernie, B. C.—Relief for the sufferers from the terrible forest fires in the Elk river district, which destroyed dozen large and small towns, was generously tendered from the northern part of the United States and from all over Canada. Great trainloads of provisions, clothing and everything else which the sufferers most need were sent to the stricken towns.

The latest estimates on the loss of life range in the neighborhood of 200, although the authorities declare that when the final calculations are made the number dead will not exceed 250. The monetary loss was $7,500,000, the insurance on which is estimated at not over $1,000,000. More than 6,000 persons were rendered homeless by the awful conflagration.

At least reports such towns as Michels and Hosmer were still fighting the fires. Many bodies were recovered in this city as soon as the heat from the smoldering ruins reduced and made it possible for rescuers to go into the stricken parts of the city. Trains bore the people away in large numbers, but now they are returning in family groups, and it is the intention of authorities to again build up the town. This intention has been expressed also in most of the other villages and towns which suffered by the fire.

Toledo, O.—When an automobile plunged over a steep embankment two and a half miles west of Sylvania Sunday afternoon, Charles W. Poltmann, a wealthy Cleveland importer and merchant tailor, and Father George Vahey, pastor of Columbiana parish, Cleveland, were instantly killed beneath the car.

The baggage car caught fire and was consumed.

GREAT AIRSHIP WRECKED

ZEPPELIN'S MACHINE BLOWS UP AND IS BURNED.

Disaster overtakes dirigible balloon at Echterdingen. After its remarkable Endurance Flight.

Echterdingen.—A dramatic end came Wednesday to Count Zeppelin's long-awaited endurance flight in his monster dirigible balloon and the broad airship which Tuesday was cutting rapidly through the air and outdistancing pursuing automobiles, lies in an open field near here, a mass of twisted, useless metal. The count, almost heart-broken and unable longer to endure the sight of his shattered craft, left by train for Friedrichshafen.

The airship had left Nackenheim, and over night had visited Mayence and begun the homeward journey, when misfortune overtook it. Soon after its departure it was found that the front motor was working badly. A landing was made here and repairs were being made when suddenly a violent storm sprang up.

The balloon swayed to and fro, sometimes rising a few feet from the ground. Then a formidable gust of wind struck the airship broadside. At first the craft heeled over and then her bows rose in the air, carrying with them a number of soldiers holding the ropes. After passing a moment at a height of 60 feet, the airship came crashing to the ground. With a thunderous report the forward motor exploded. From the bows of the balloon shot forth a vivid flame, while from the rear escaped thick clouds of black smoke which caused the entire structure to disappear from the view of the thousands of spectators.

When the air cleared the balloon was seen lying in an open field on a high plateau with only the ragged, tangled strips of aluminum envelop still remaining. The metal stays and bands and portions of the motors were strewn about in pieces of old iron, and blackened with smoke and scorched.

Officers rushed forward and found that several soldiers had been hurt. The four engineers who were on the forward platform of the airship had escaped death, but were suffering from injuries.

SEVERE STORM IN BOSTON.

Rainfall Is Heavy and Store Basements Are Flooded.

Boston.—From a meteorological standpoint Friday was "black Friday." In Boston, the city being visited in the afternoon by the heaviest electrical disturbance in years.

The storm lasted for nearly an hour, during which time the rain gauge at the United States weather bureau registered a fall of 1.05 inches.

Heavy damages resulted from the flooding of basements in the downtown sections of the city. In some of the newspaper offices on Washington street there was two feet of water in the press rooms.

OFFICERS BEATEN TO DEATH.

Two Killed by Chicken Thieves at Melthun, Mass.

Methuen, Mass.—Covered with bruises indicating that they had been beaten to death in the performance of their duties, the bodies of Charles H. Emerson and Frank McDermott, members of the Methuen police department, were found on the outskirts of this town, after a search of several hours, late Sunday.

The officers were sent out Saturday night in an effort to catch petty intruders who for some time past have been robbing chicken yards and vegetable gardens.

Eight Die in Burning Boat.

Winnipeg, Man.—The steamer Premier, Capt. Stevens, was burned to the water's edge at Warren's Landing, the northern terminus of Lake Winnipeg, Thursday. Six passengers and two of the crew lost their lives.

Shah in Distressing Plight.

St. Petersburg.—Special dispatches received here from Teheran give a tragic-comic description of the position of the shah of Persia, who is virtually a prisoner in the hands of wild tribesmen summoned to Teheran to protect the throne against the revolutionaries, but who have become a greater menace to the monarch than his other foes. The tribesmen are extravagant in their demands for money, which the shah is unable to grant, and they threaten to destroy the palace and pillage Teheran.

Jap Refused Citizenship.

Seattle, Wash.—After serving three years in the United States army in the Philippines and receiving an honorable discharge, Buntaro Kamagi, a Japanese, applied for admission to citizenship, and has been refused his papers by Judge C. H. Hanford of the federal court here.

SLAUGHTER BY STRIKERS.

Passenger Train Is Fired on at Blocton, Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala.—Three men were instantly killed and 11 injured, two of whom will probably die, when striking miners fired into a passenger train on the Birmingham Mineral railroad at Blocton Sunday morning, about two o'clock.

The dead are: Conductor Joe T. Collins, O. S. Dent, deputy sheriff, and Willard Howell, non-union miner.

The injured include: Maj. F. H. Dodge, superintendent of safety, Tennessee Coal company, wounded in hand and leg; E. E. Cox, superintendent of mines, Tennessee Coal company, wounded slightly in knee; A. E. Cross, chief clerk, superintendent's office, wounded in arm and knee, and several deputy sheriffs.

The train was a special bearing non-union men to the Blocton mines under guard of soldiers and deputies. On the outskirts of the town the engineer suddenly saw a log across the track and at once a fusilade was fired into the train. The engineer did not stop, but let the pilot throw the log from the track, and put on full speed. The place where the attack was made was in a cut, the ground being on a level with the lower part of the windows. The assailants, from the rocks above, poured down a murderous fire directly into the windows and at the engineer.

The train proceeded to Blocton and the dead and injured were returned to Birmingham. Dogs were hurried to the scene and took trails through the woods directly to the union quarters. Eight negroes were arrested and other arrests are expected.

Gov. Comer held a hurried conference with Lt. Col. Hubbard, commanding the militia, and another company was hurried to Blocton.

PRESIDENT SAYS HE DID IT.

Assumes Entire Responsibility for Discharging Negro Soldiers.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—President Roosevelt in a statement issued Friday night made it clear that the entire responsibility was his for the issuance of the original order discharging the battalion of negro soldiers for alleged participation in the Brownsboro (Tex.) rioting and the refusal to permit a suspension of that order.

The president was shown the interview which was had in Washington with Gen. Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A., retired, in which Gen. Corbin stated that no credit or blame in the matter rested with Mr. Taft. After reading the interview the president, through his assistant private secretary, Rudolph Forster, gave out the following:

"Gen. Corbin's statement is absolutely correct, and it was entirely proper that he should make it. The substance of the message from the president which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsboro matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the president's."

The president was shown the interview which was had in Washington with Gen. Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A., retired, in which Gen. Corbin stated that no credit or blame in the matter rested with Mr. Taft. After reading the interview the president, through his assistant private secretary, Rudolph Forster, gave out the following:

"Gen. Corbin's statement is absolutely correct, and it was entirely proper that he should make it. The substance of the message from the president which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsboro matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the president's."

FIND WOMAN'S WIT UNCERTAIN.

As When This Wife Failed to Appreciate Her Husband's Pleasantry.

"Don't always rely upon the ready wit of a woman," said the man who is sometimes pleased to consider himself an oracle. "That ready wit business is sometimes prone to get 'way off."

"For example, my wife and children had been staying in the country for several weeks and I was regular with my letters, as every loving husband should be. Finally on the day before my wife was to start for home I concluded my letter to her with these words:

"This will be the last letter I will write to you for a long, long time."

"When I got down to my office the next morning I found a telegram from my wife waiting for me. 'What on earth do you mean?' read the dispatch.

"Later a registered letter came from her. She had blotted almost every line with tears. What it was all about I could not imagine.

"Then my telephone bell rang, and when I answered I heard my wife's voice speaking over the long distance phone.

"'Oh, John,' said she. 'Is that really you? I thought you had committed suicide!'

Show Men Like Apes.

Prehistoric paintings recently unearthed show man to have been like an ape. The only known examples of paintings of men by prehistoric cave decorators have been discovered lately by Prof. René Lemaire in the Porte grotto, a cave of Louhans, in Ardeche, France, where Nonet already had found quaternary remains and human bones. About 40 sketches in black or red, only one in both colors, adorn the cave as frescoes, and two represent men of a primitive type, while the others show bisons, bears and horses. Of the human figures one has a long head, with retreating forehead, while the other shows a remarkable apelike pose, with rounded back and arms pendent in front. There is a crooking boar, but the horses are mostly galloping and poorly drawn, although the forequarters of a horse are quite skilfully figured in black on one of the darkest walls of the cavern.

Had Provided for Pets.

François Coppee, the French author, like many artists and actors, was exceedingly fond of cats, and for years he had in his house in Paris and in the beautiful rose garden back of the house a number of fine specimens, including several valuable natives of Persia. When Coppee died, to be followed soon by his devoted sister, who was his nurse, the Paris Animal Protective Society felt called upon to look for the cats, which were supposed to have been left in the deserted Coppee home to starve. Investigation showed, however, that the master had anticipated the end. He had given all his pets to friends.

HIS HOODOO WAS ON THE JOB.
Bad Luck the Portion of This Man for Entire Day.

"I knew I was going to have bad luck to-day," said the commuter, as he watched his train whiz away and reflected that it would be half an hour before he could get another. "My evil genius began to get in its work early this morning and has been on the job ever since. In the first place I was late rising, so that I had to omit my breakfast in order to catch my train. When I arrived in town this morning I stepped into a drug store to get a glass of chocolate in lieu of breakfast. I had just taken one swallow when the man who was drinking an egg flip next to me slipped and spilled the contents of his glass over me. I set my own drink down to wipe off the mess, whereupon the soda jerker grabbed it instantly and threw the contents away, at the same time handing me a check for ten cents. The blonde cashier smiled sweetly as I passed in my dime and handed me two sample vials of pills and also a bottle of hair restorer. You see, I started the day out innocuously. I knew I was in for all day, and I have not been disappointed.

"This caps the climax, as my wife has invited some friends to dinner, and I was solemnly adjured to be present. Now no story I hand out will be believed. And the worst is, I don't dare step over to the corner and while the time away with my foot on the brass rail, because my wife's seat a drink concealed in my breath no matter if I cover it with cloves and coffee a foot deep. Did you ever have things to pursue you that way?"

Served as coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocers everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee will trick even a coffee expert. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Pure beautiful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., have been so cleverly blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And it's made in a minute, too. No tedious 20 to 50 minutes boiling. Sold by Williams Bros.

Penitent and Resourceful.

One of the prison missionaries of the Church Army tells a story of a man who came under the influence of the society at a mission held at York, England. The man, a notorious pickpocket, was so impressed by what he heard that he felt he must do something to show his determination to lead a new life. He considered the best way to do this was to put something into the collection, but unfortunately he had no money in his pocket. Then a bright idea struck him; he picked the pocket of the man sitting next him, and thus was able to contribute to the good work. It is said the man has been re-educated definitely.

Church Tower His Pulpit.

Sunday last being "Fest Sunday," the vicar of Selston, Rev. C. Harrison, hit upon the novel idea of preaching from the church tower. The greater part of the congregation seated themselves on the highway.

The reverend gentleman took as his text "The Builders and the Tower," and possessing a strong voice, his remarks were heard distinctly by the large crowd of callers and others gathered together, the weather being all that could be desired.—London Evening Standard.

YOUTHFUL FISHERS IN ALASKA.

Boys' Boat Towed by a Big Halibut—How the Dogs Help.

About the mouths of the streams on which salmon camps are situated the Indian dogs and children amuse themselves catching the fish. Some of the youngsters are so small that after they have succeeded in cornering a fish the combined efforts of the party are often required to dispatch it and carry it to camp. I have watched dogs running about a rift snapping at the salmon and apparently having the time of their lives.

One of the most amusing sights that I saw during my stay in Alaska was two Indian boys being towed about the harbor at Kadiak by a huge halibut, but they had just hooked. Utterly unable to land the fish, they had fastened the line to the stern of the boat, and while they pulled with all their might, each one at an oar, they rallied each other for not exerting more strength and shouted loudly for help. Finally an Indian put out in a boat and the fish was landed.—Forest and Stream.

RECIPE FOR LIFE'S HAPPINESS.

Seek to Remember Only Good Points of One's Neighbors.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget the slander you have heard. Forget the temptations. Forget peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or histories you may have heard by accident. Blot out as far as possible all the disagreeables of life; they will come, but they will grow larger when you remember them, and the constant thought of the acts of meanness will only tend to make you more familiar with them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday; start out with a clean sheet for to-day, and write on it only lovely things.

Prevaricators!

A French review has been asking leading writers and artists what they habitually drink; and the replies are on the lofty plane of those that are made when men are asked to name their favorite books. With the exception of Rodin, Flannigan, and a very few others, who frankly admit their preference for strong drink, these French bohemians of to-day seem to derive their inspiration mainly from water. And this in a Paris that once knew Henri Murger, that still knows one of the worst water supplies in a civilized city! Do you feel impelled, if a great man, to say that you drink water, just as you seem obliged to say that Shakespeare and the Bible form your staple reading?—London Chronicle.

Shopper Got the Best.

Not all young matrons are so sophisticated as is the customary "Mrs. Newlywed" of the newspaper funny man. One striking exception resides in Harlem.

Entering a butcher shop on the eve of a large house party to be given at her home, she saw displayed a dozen chickens.

"Please pick me out a half dozen chickens that are tough," she said. "I have a special reason."

The butcher put aside seven.

"Are these all?" she added.

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply. "These are all tough ones."

"Then send the other five to my house at once," said the young matron.

The butcher is guessing still.

The Roast.

Mrs. Archbold Sanderson was describing in New York her big game hunts in South Africa.

"Don't judge a woman by her looks," said she. "The most ethereal appearing girl may be able to bring down an elephant or a lion."

"To judge woman by her looks is to court error. I know a man who, while carving at a dinner, wished to say something that would pierce the pale, deep-eyed, sprituelle girl at his side.

"How do you like Macerlinck?" he at last inquired.

"Well done," she answered, not once lifting her eyes from the great roast he was working on."

The Woman Who Gambles.

Mornists say that the emotion of gaming makes women ugly. It is not necessary to take the word of the moralists for that. Gaming does not make women ugly; it unmasks them, and it is of that that they must be warned.

It is natural enough, since they play passionately, and in playing they forget the world and their faces. So much the worse for those who do as Jezabel. Jean Lorrain has left terrible pictures of old painted faces the natural condition of which is revealed by the excitement of play.

Her Fate.

Tess—You'll be all right if you can only cook. You know, they say the best way to reach a man's heart, is through his stomach.

Jess (pessimistically)—Yes, it will just be my luck to reach it with heartburn or some other phase of dyspepsia.

Expensive Either Way.

"Poor Tom, it cost him a terrible lot to give up his sweetheart."

"Then, why did he?"
"Because it would have cost him a great deal more if he hadn't."

The Dog.

The dog is man's most faithful friend. A man may lie, but a dog won't; a man may get drunk, a man may slander his neighbor, a man may embezzle and defraud, a man may borrow money, a man may steal money, a man may go into politics, a man may knife his best friend, a man may run people down with an automobile, a man may gamble himself to ruin, a man may waste his substance in riotous living, a man may go to heaven—but a dog won't. Can these things be truthfully spoken of other friends man has about him?

There is nothing under the sun quite so quaint, so weird and witchlike as the pandanus prairies of Fiji. The pandanus, or screw plant, as it is called, is a most grotesque specimen of the vegetable kingdom, even at the best and in the early stages of its growth. In its very young days it is of an extraordinary scroll-like shape and looks as though some unkind hand had taken hold of its long, sword-like leaves and twisted them round and round. Later on it straightens out a bit and from it grows a number of tall wooden stilts. Its foliage is simple a number of drooping, ragged tufts for all the world like mops, and very mournful looking. Among these mops hangs the fruit, in shape like a pine-apple, made up of hard red and yellow kernels, woody and fibrous, and quite inedible from a European's point of view.

NOTHING LIKE THIS IN LIFE.

Things Don't Come So Easy for the American Father.

The American father of the heiress greeted the count who was a suitor for her hand with dignified frigidity.

"Sare," said the count, "your daughter has done me a ze honnour of consenting to be my wife. I am called to complete zo negotiations."

"All right," warmly said the father. "How much of a cash settlement do you expect?"

"Nossing, sare."

"What! How much will I have to pay for your poker debts?"

"Nossing, sare; I do not gamble."

"How much will I have to put up to settle branch of promise cases brought by chorus girls?"

"Nossing, sare; I do not flirt."

"How much will I have to pay to rebuild your castle?"

"Nossing, sare; it is in fine repair."

"But there must be some expense by me. Out with it."

"No, sare; nossing. I simply love your daughter and she loves me, and we wish to be married. Is not that enough? Is it not enough to ask you to give me your daughter without your expecting to—"

"Come to my arms!" exclaimed the American father, and tried to fall upon the neck of the delighted count.

But he awoke on the floor, having tumbled from the bed as a finish to his amazing dream.—Judge.

The little attacks of stomach trouble and stomach disorders will undoubtedly lead to chronic dyspepsia unless you take something for a sufficient time to strengthen the stomach and give it a chance to get well. Why James Lee Got Well

Everybody in Zanesville O. knows Mrs.

Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes:

"My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable; when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat, and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

One by Barnacle Ben.

"Yes, mate," related Barnacle Ben, retired seaman, "I certainly did see some wonderful things when I was cruising around the seven seas. Why, once we had a sawfish to follow the Nancy Jones for 1,000 miles. We used to throw off the leavings from the gallery and when we'd hit a big calm, why, the sawfish would saw up our forewood in stove lengths. All we had to was to toss the long sticks over and he'd saw them up in a jiffy. Then we'd take a long rake and rake them aboard. Nature faking? Never heard of it, mate, never heard of it."

And Barnacle Ben lit his pipe and shambled away.

His Serious Interruptions.

"I s'pose John is still takin' life easy," said the woman in the spring wagon.

"Yes," answered the woman who was carrying an armful of wood. "John has only two regrets in life. One is that he has to wake up to eat, an' the other is that he has to quit eatin' to sleep."

Chicken Has Red Eyes.

George Ladenburger has a sure enough curiosity in the possession of a red-eyed chicken. It is not the eyelids that are red, as might be inferred, but the eyes themselves. The eyeballs are not bloodshot or inflamed, but are of a brilliant crystal red, while the sights are also red, but of a darker hue. So transparent are the eyes that when the head of the chicken is held between your vision and the sun it appears as if the sun were shining through from one eye to the other and the head lighted up inside. The chick is as healthy and can see as perfectly as any in the brood.—Dover (Del.) News.

Quite a little excitement was caused Sunday morning by the loud ringing of the fire bell and the report that the house owned by Jos. Westlake and occupied by the McGee family was on fire. Fortunately the fire which was caused by a certain igniting from an oil stove, was discovered at once as all the members of the family were at church except Mr. McGee who happened to be outside at the time. His prompt action and a generous supply of water, which luckily was at hand, was nil that saved the house from destruction. However the flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

The man who gathers pumpkins is the one who plays all day, and who keeps it pumping is the man who makes it pay. The man who advertises with a short, a sudden jerk, is the man who blames the editor because it didn't work. The man who gets the business has a long and steady pull and keeps the local paper from year to year quite full; he plans his advertisements in a thoughtful way and keeps forever at it until he makes it pay. Word was received in this vicinity the latter part of last week of the accidental shooting of Mabel, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nelson, of Delhart, Texas, formerly of Lake Villa. The Nelson children were playing with others at the home of a neighbor when the accident occurred, the charge entering the child's head. Further particulars of the accident have not as yet been received. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson moved to Texas only a short time ago, and their many friends and relatives here extend their sincere sympathy to the family in their sad bereavement.

"Whose picture is that, mamma?" asked Dorothy.

"Mine. It was taken when I was a child not much older than you are now."

"Did you know papa then?"

Samos as a Birthplace.

Samos, the autonomous Greek island under Turkish suzerainty, which has once more been the scene of trouble, is one of the few lucky regions on earth that have no national debt. It is also one of the few places in that part of the world at which Homer was not born. But as a birth place Samos nevertheless ranks high. As the home of the first treble it was the originator of sea power. Thence came the first bold Greek mariner who sailed out through the Straits of Gibraltar into the Atlantic. Above all, it was the birthplace of Pythagoras, of whom Samos is very proud to this day. Its great college, the Pythagorean, is attended by pupils from Crete and other islands, and has been called by a Siamian writer "a lighthouse, spreading its light far and wide in the Levant."

Awkward Language.

Japanese "typos" have their troubles. K. Suzukiura, library editor of the Tokyo Asahi Shimbun, says that he especially admires the linotype machines. "Unfortunately we are unable to use them in Japan, for our language has 47 letters, as well as over 3,000 Chinese characters, and such a number of types is, of course, beyond the capabilities of any machine yet invented. In the printing office of our newspaper in Tokyo the compositors must often walk the whole length of the room to fetch one character, instead of standing in one place before a single case, as the English or American compositors can do."

Habitual Criminals.

Most crimes—thefts, burglaries, assaults, etc.—are committed by a small number of professional criminals.

They adopt crime as a career. It is their means of livelihood. They are caught, sent to prison and return when they come out to the same lawless career. They become so expert that they commit many crimes before they are caught. In prison they are artful hypocrites, becoming quite sanctimonious and earning good characters from the governor and chaplain—in order to get out sooner.—Lloyd's News.

Following Instructions.

She was a little girl and very polite. "Twas the first time she had been on a visit alone, and she had been told how to behave.

"Now, Ethel, should they ask you to stay and dine, you must say: 'No, thank you; I have already dined.'"

It turned out just as papa had anticipated.

"Come along, Ethel," said the host, "you must have a bite with us."

"No, thank you," said the dignified little girl. "I have already bitten."

Birthplace of Iceberg.

We might call Greenland the world's ice box. If you glance at the map you will see that the state of New York, large as it seems to us, is not over one-twentieth the size of Greenland, for New York contains only 47,000 square miles. Then think that the glaciers are steadily moving away from the center of Greenland, really being crowded out of the island. It will not seem so strange that here is the birthplace of nearly all the icebergs that are so fended by the mariner.

ADVICE FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE.

Exercise by Which System is Refreshed and Invigorated.

For relaxing tonic nerves there is nothing like a tonic bath and this special relaxing exercise.

The bath is quite simple—nothing but alternate sprays of hot and cold water, given for from five to ten minutes. This is possible for any one who can afford a rubber hose with a spray attachment, which fastens on to the nozzle of the hot and cold spigot. It usually costs about $1.

Follow the bath with this exercise, which stimulates the nerves without the expenditures of nerve force.

Stand with the weight of the body on the left foot, the right fixed lightly on the floor a little in advance of it. Raise slowly the right arm to the level of the shoulder, then move arm in a circle from right to left and reverse.

The left arm is then treated in the same manner, with the weight of body on right foot.

By exercise of this kind the nervous system is refreshed and invigorated. It is important in doing the movements to relax so thoroughly that one forgets she has any muscles. In other words, the movement is to be quite involuntary.

REASONING OF CHILDISH MIND.

Little One Thought She Recognized the Work of Papa.

A short time ago a surgeon had three leg amputations in a week. The unusual number caused talk in the surgeon's household, and his little daughter, Dorothy, was greatly interested. A few days after the last operation the surgeon's wife and little Dorothy were rummaging in the attic. In a trunk was found a daguerreotype depicting a girl about eight years of age. The portrait, through a peculiarity of pose, showed only one leg of the subject, the other being doubled up under her.

"Whose picture is that, mamma?" asked Dorothy.

"Mine. It was taken when I was a child not much older than you are now."

"Did you know papa then?"

"No, dear. Why do you ask?"

Expert Testimony.

A mountaineer intimated that he knew a great deal about a mountaineer on trial in a Kentucky court, and thereby got free transportation to Louisville to testify for the state.

"What can you tell us about this man?" asked the district attorney.

"Waal," he answered, swelling with importance, "I seen this feller riding along the road in the heat of a hot day on a pack mule, and waving at a dog and blowing of a horn; and I ax him if that was a Blue Grass horse or a Chittling breed, and he said it war."—Harper's Weekly.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children, it is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Astonished.

"Well, what of it?"

"I did not think there was that much money in the world."—Houston Post.

"No."

"Why not?"

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail.

FOR THE TRINKETS

PRETTY BOX ORNAMENTED WITH EMBROIDERY.

Linen with Wadded Silk or Sateen, Receptacle Has Proper Place on the Dressing Table in the Boudoir.

Any light wooden or very firm cardboard box may be used for the foundation; it should be carefully lined with wadded silk or sateen, the edges of which may be drawn on to the outside and fixed by mucilage, then cover the sides with silk, or if preferred, art to the inside; work the design shown with ribbon and sequins, the stalks being in cording stitch with embroidery silk. When the work is finished, iron it on the wrong side over a thick ironing blanket. Put a thin layer of wadding over the lid, then stretch the embroidered silk over it, fixing the edges on inside of lid with mucilage, a pretty silk or tinsel gauze or gimp finishes the edge. To line the lid, cut stiff paper or thin card a trifle smaller than lid, cover with a thin layer of wadding, then with silk or linen, fix this lining inside the lid by mucilage.

UNBLEACHED MUSLIN IS LIKED.

Can Be Artistically Made Up into Summer Frocks.

When women began to use cretonnes for skirts and East Indian cotton prints for coats, waistcoats, and trimming, their minds turned to all the other odd fabrics they could utilize this summer.

They have found one. It is coarse, unbleached muslin. It is wide, as you know, and cheap. You may not know how artistic it is when made up into a summer frock.

No new-fangled fancy fabric is meant. It is just the old, everyday unbleached muslin.

It is made into shirt-waist frocks for common wear, and trimmed with bands of cretonne or cotton print of any kind. Others are trimmed with bands of solidly colored muslin, especially those of dark blue and deep red. One frock was made with a gored skirt trimmed with a four-inch fold of cretonne.

Embroidery Design.

linen might be used. The embroidery design for the top is shown, the little spray being repeated at each corner. Cut the silk for covering the top to fit it, allowing half an inch to turn over

BLACK NET OVER TINTS

Black net over faded tints has come to the fore again. Dull pale grays, smoked blues, queer pinks and that faded shade of mauve which has been in style all season are used under both black and white net and lace, a most becoming mode for our mothers' generation and very smart for young matrons.

The mistake most women make when they line a black frock with a color is to make a belt and a bow of this color for the outside of the frock. Omit these if you would have the frock look its best.

Trim it with bands of black filet lace. The expensive ones now have this lace hand embroidered in what is known as ribbon braid. If you have the time and the skill go to this trouble, it will result in a handsome frock; but a good quality of filet lace serves well enough for most purposes.

You can use the ribbon braid to good effect in small quantities at neck and sleeves. Buy it in black and use a bold design, such as a Greek border, or a wall of Troy or octopus or chrysanthemum. This ribbon braid embroidery is quite pretty and seems to have caught on and become the fashion of the moment.

In these frocks it is also wise to adopt the new fashion of a black yoke and stock instead of a white one.

DAILY BATH A NECESSITY.

Whether Cold or Hot Depends on Condition of Bather.

A daily bath is a necessity if the body is to be kept in good, sound condition. If one's constitution will not permit of a daily plunge, the sponge bath will prove sufficient for all purposes of cleanliness and health.

Whether the bath should be a cold one in the morning or a hot one at night is to be determined by the physical strength of the bather.

A cold bath has a tendency to make the skin dry and harsh. To avoid this condition, some outdoor exercise should be taken soon after the bath. This will promote perspiration and the action of the oil glands, thus making the skin soft and smooth again.

For nervous people, a bath in seawater, or in water to which sea-salt has been added, will prove beneficial. The salt stimulates the heart and overcomes the exhausted feeling one so often experiences after some mental or physical strain.

The hot bath has a soothing effect, and often insures sleep to one who is inclined to be wakeful and restless.

Dainty Little Jacket.

Such a dainty little jacket was soon recently that the writer wants to describe it. This garment would make a delightful gift to an invalid or an elderly woman who is going to mountain or seashore for the summer. It was in fine white wool (crochet), combined with a delicate color, such as pink, blue or mauve. The square yoke was of the color and supported a full body, which covered the hips. The sleeves, in bell shape, were wide, and in order to give weight to goods so airy and fluffy, the border around the jacket and the edges of sleeves were threaded with ribbon to match the color of wool. The price was $3.50.—Chicago American.

Lack of sufficient sleep soon shows in one's appearance.

Buttermilk is very good for removing freckles or sunburn.

Sleeping with the mouth open will spoil the shape of the lips.

A good brisk walk before breakfast each morning is very beneficial.

The sun is very good for the hair and, after washing, the hair should be dried in the sun, in the open air, if possible.

A solution that sometimes will aid the hair in curling is half a pint of strong tea, dissolving in it 11 grains of carbonate of potash. The hair is wet with this while dressing, laid in waves and held so while drying.

Let any one who suffers from neuralgic face ache try how it answers to sit in a sunny window and let the soothng sunshine fall upon the painful part. In nervous debility, too, and for insomnia, no treatment is so good as rest combined with plenty of sunshin

MAKING ICE CREAM

PROCESS NOT DIFFICULT WITH PROPER CARE.

Having Correct Proportions of Ice and Salt Is a Necessity—Freezing Pet and Dasher Must Be Kept Clean.

The housekeeper repeats good advice in regard to making ice cream. It is not at all difficult to make good ice cream if one is just a little careful to have the ice and salt in correct proportions and properly powdered. Time is not saved by using the ice in too large pieces, as when it is coarsely crushed it takes the cream much longer to freeze. Both the ice and salt should be finely crushed and each layer packed down very firmly. One part of ice to three parts of salt is the usual allowance, and it is better to measure both to insure proper proportions. Rock salt is the best, although ordinary barrel salt does very well and is more easily obtained in small pieces.

The freezing pet and dasher should be thoroughly cleansed and sterilized each time after it has been used, and again sterilized just before it is to be used again unless there has been a very short interval between. Put the freezer in position and place a three-inch layer of finely crushed ice in the tub, cover with one of salt, and alternate these layers, packing each down hard, until the freezing mixture is a few inches above the cream in the can.

At first the crank should be turned slowly, then, as the cream hardens, more rapidly. When it becomes difficult to turn remove the beater, stir the cream thoroughly with a strong porcelain or granite spoon.

Press it smoothly down, cover, put a cork in the hole where the beater belongs, remove the lower plug and draw off the water. Pack as before with fresh ice and salt, cover with a piece of blanket or carpet, and set aside for an hour or longer to ripen. Three or four hours will not be too long.

The easiest way to break the ice is to put it in a strong bag and pound it vigorously with a strong hammer or mallet. Ice cream may be made from either cooked or uncooked mixture.

For a delicious uncooked ice cream scald a quart of thin sweet cream and dissolve in it 1½ cupfuls of sugar, add a quart of cold cream, two eggs well beaten and two tablespoomfuls of vanilla. Freeze and pack as directed. This is called Philadelphia ice cream, and is often made without eggs.

Creamed Cucumbers.

Peel two or three large cucumbers and cut very fine with a sharp knife or run through the coarsest knives of the meat chopper. Drain off the liquid, but do not press.

Put a bowl with a clove of garlic, put in the minced cucumbers and season with cayenne pepper, black pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and the strained juice of half a small lemon.

Chill all the ingredients thoroughly and just before serving stir in half a cupful of thickly whipped cream.

This makes a nice sauce for serving with fish or is equally good put on the half shells. Serve one to each person and pass with soft shell crabs or broiled lobster at a luncheon.

Glazed Currant Buns.

Soften a cake of compressed yeast in half a cup of scalded and cooled milk, add to a pint of the same; stir in three cups of flour, heat till smooth, cover and set to rise; when light, add half a cup of sugar, half a cup of softened butter, a teaspoonful of salt, three eggs, a cup of cleaned currants and three cups of flour; knead until elastic and set to rise; when doubled in bulk, roll into a sheet and cut into rounds; let them stand a little distance apart on a baking sheet, and when doubled in bulk bake 25 minutes; brush over with a thin starch (a teaspoonful of cornstarch to a cup of boiling water), sprinkle thickly with granulated sugar and return to the oven to glaze.

Malin Blueberry Cake.

Sift three cupfuls flour and one-third cup sugar with a rounded teaspoonful cream of tartar and the same amount of soda. The extra amount of soda is to counteract the acidity of the berries. Put in two heaping tablespoomfuls butter, one beaten egg, a cup and a third of sweet milk and two cups blueberries dredged with flour. Bake in a shallow cake pan in a hot oven and serve hot for breakfast or supper with butter. The bread should be broken, not cut.

Plenty of Towels.

Have plenty of dish towels and a lace or two on which to dry them. Have several sets of these cloths, two for china, two for glassware and three for the tin and crockery ware. Allow them to be used only for their legitimate branch of the dish washing and change once a week for clean ones all round. The dishes will look neater and the towels will be more easily kept clean than if you go about it the usual way and wipe everything on the same cloth.

When Boiling Fish.

Put the fish in a deep pan and fill it with water. Then when you are ready to scald the fish hold the fish under water during the process and the scales will not fly in the face and all over the kitchen as they will when the fish is cleaned in the usual way.

When the fish is finished the scales, which will all have fallen to the bottom of the pan, can be easily turned out into the garbage after the water has been poured off them.

When Making Jellies.

When making any kind of jelly take a few leaves of the rose geranium after washing them well put in the jelly for a few minutes while it is boiling. This will give the jelly the most delicious flavor imaginable. Cranberry jelly especially is wonderfully improved by this flavor.

SOME WARM-WEATHER SALADS.

Appropriate for Luncheon or Supper During the Hot Days.

"One of the prettiest of the luncheon or supper salads is made by cutting the top from a green pepper, removing the seeds with a knife or stick—they burn the skin if touched with the fingers—and filling the basket thus made with chicken or lobster salad," says Christine Terhune Herrick in the Woman's Home Companion. "Each pepper may be placed on a lettuce leaf and crowned with a sprigful of mayonnaise. Another salad is prepared by hollowing a tomato and filling it with dice of cucumber, or peeling a cucumber, cutting it in half lengthwise, scooping out the inside and replacing this with dice of tomatoes. Serve either tomato or cucumber on a lettuce leaf, and garnish with cucumber ribbons. These are made by shaving the peel from the outside of a cucumber and then slicing this. Take slices—it should be rather thick—and with a sharp knife cut this in a spiral, as you would pare an apple. The shaving must be very thin, as it is not long before the seedy center is reached and only the flesh of the cucumber will serve for the ribbons. Cucumber boats filled with shrimps are a satisfactory dish for cold supper. Mayonnaise is served with this, or a good salad dressing. The cucumbers halved and filled with other sliced or diced cucumber, served on lettuce, garnished with cucumber ribbons and with strips of the scarlet sweet pepper cut very thin, make a good dish."

CLEANING THE FLOWER VASES.

Tea Leaves and Vinegar Should Be Used to Remove Stains.

The careful housewife is now confronted with stained flower vases at every turn. The summer flowers have this effect on crystal, china and silver.

If fresh water is put in the vase twice a day the stain is not apt to appear, but doing this takes time and trouble.

It is forgotten even if one intends to do it, and the consequence is the vase are filled at the bottom nod in the crevices with green brown stains that are far from pretty.

And, again, they are far from easy to get out. Possibly everyone does not know that there is no method of removing them so excellent as the use of tea leaves and vinegar.

Place a handful of used tea leaves in the bottom of the vase and pour over them a little vinegar. Then place the head over the top of the vase and shake steadily until the marks have disappeared.

If this does not take them all out add a little fresh vinegar, wind a soft cloth around a small sharp stick and run it around the vase and in and out of the crevices.

This will effectively remove even the most obstinate stain caused by water and flowers that have been left for two or three days in one vase.

Ginger Creams.

Beat solid a pint of thick double cream with a third of a cupful of confectioner's sugar, and then reduce to the required consistency by gradually stirring in half a pint of ginger syrup that has been drained from a jar of preserved ginger, freeze until it begins to stiffen and then pour in a small cupful of finely chopped preserved ginger.

Mold the cases in the desired shapes by dipping marceaux in caramel sugar or a little fondant and then arranging them in position when quite firm, fill with frozen cream and pack in salt and chopped ice for at least three hours. Garnish each portion with a star of sweetened whipped cream.

A Light Lunch.

The lighter a lunch may be, and at the same time nourishing, the more desirable it is when the mercury is mounting. A bowl of some prepared, uncooked breakfast food or cold boiled rice in which peaches are sliced, or a baked apple is combined, and eaten with plenty of cream is all that the average person needs at the present time. Should a girl feel hungry before night she may take a glass of milk and viandy, or cold melted milk, or even an egg phosphate, which will stay her until the evening meal. Sandwiches and milk make an excellent luncheon, particularly if topped off with fruit of some kind.

Onion Pie.

Peel and cut in dice enough onions to fill a pie tin that has been lined with good rich pastry, then dot with bits of butter and sprinkled salt and pepper to taste.

Beat up an egg without separating and add enough sweet milk to cover the onions. You must use your own judgment, as some pie tins are smaller than others. Bake in a moderate oven about half an hour until done. Bits of fat pork on top do as well as butter.

Refreshing Salad.

Pineapple in any form makes one of the most delicious summer salads.

Instead of cutting it in cubes, however, and serving it either alone or with celery, try combining the pineapple and orange. The latter gives an intangible flavor that is quite different from either of the fruits used singly.

Cut the pineapple into quarter-inch cubes. Divide the oranges into sections, skin each one carefully and cut it in half.

DENEEN DEFEATS YATES IN ILLINOIS PRIMARIES

Adlai Stevenson Nominated by the Democrats, Who Plan a Vigorous Campaign--Senator Hopkins Beats Foss--Nominees for Congress.

Chicago.—Revised returns indicate that Gov. Denen has been reelected by a majority of approximately 7,600 over Richard Yates in the Illinois primary election.

There are still about 30 counties from which complete reports of the ballots cast at the Saturday primary have not been gathered. These counties are for the most part in remote districts, where the work of gathering and compiling the election statistics is carried on with difficulty. When these counties submit their complete returns there is a possibility that the state vote may be augmented.

The incomplete reports vary as to importance. In some counties the reports of the canvass have been obtained in all but one or two precincts, while in some of the other counties as high as 15 to 20 precincts have as yet failed to report on the results.

Even Break Outside Cook.

From the present indications it seems probable that the vote downward will be as follows:

Stevenson Plans Strong Campaign.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for governor, at his home in Bloomington, issued a statement in which he expressed his gratitude to the Democratic voters of Illinois and said that he would start at once on an aggressive campaign. He also outlined the platform on which he will make his fight.

Mr. Stevenson said he would speak in all counties of the state and would discuss the issues that are particularly vital in Illinois. The main plank in his platform will deal with the office of governor. He will declare to his speeches that the state government should be run as a business enterprise as well as a humanitarian one with respect to the eleemosynary institutions, and will pledge himself to divorce the asylums from politics entirely if elected governor. He promises a nonpartisan administration of the state government.

He Announces that he will not again be a candidate for any political office, and that if elected he will consider his political career finished with his term as governor.

Democrats Are Hopeful.

The Democrats are most hopeful of success. State Chairman Boeschentstein arrived in Chicago and predicted complete victory. National Committee-man Roger C. Sullivan prophesied his party's success and Chairman William L. O'Connell of the county central committee couldn't see anything but a Democratic governor. Col. James Hamilton Lewis and John P. McGroarty, two of the defeated candidates for governor, added equally glowing forecasts and pledged their support to the cause of the Stevenson campaign, was just as enthusiastic as the others.

It has been a decade since the Democrats of Illinois had a love feast, but it now looks probable that they will have one at the next meeting of the state central committee or at the state convention held September 9.

Leaders Gather August 24.

Chairman Boeschentstein said that the meeting of the committee will be called for Springfield on August 24, and not only the committeemen but the leaders from all parts of the state are expected to attend.

Mr. Stevenson, according to advice from Bloomington, desires to continue Mr. Boeschentstein as the head of the state organization. He originally was selected by the Roger Sullivan faction, so that there is no chance for a fight on that proposition. According to the local prophets, Mr. Boeschentstein will give most of his attention to the campaign outside of Cook county, leaving the local territory to the local committee with the understanding that National Committee-man Sullivan will keep a watchful eye over everything.

Yates' Manager Accused.

David L. Frank, campaign manager for Richard Yates, the defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will be the first man to be tried for a violation of the new primary law. If the law takes its full course he may, if found guilty, be sent to jail for 30 days and fined $1,000.

It develops that he was arrested on Saturday, though the news was hushed up for some reason. He was charged with acting in a disorderly manner in a polling place of the Sixth ward.

RAILROADS ACCUSED

COMMISSION OF TEXAS FILES CONSPIRACY CHARGES.

CASE WILL BE EXPEDITED

Recent Increase of Freight Rates to Common Points in State Is Basis for Complaint to Interstate Commerce Body.

Washington.—The railroad commission of Texas Monday filed a formal complaint with the Interstate commerce commission against 67 railroads and other common carriers, alleging a conspiracy on the part of the defendants through the Southwestern Traffic association for the suppression of competition and restraint of trade in the recent action increasing freight rates to common points in Texas.

The commission will forward notice of this complaint to all the carriers involved and will give them 15 days to reply, the usual period allowed for answering a complaint being 20 days. The commission will expedite this case as much as possible on account of its widespread importance.

The complaint is signed by Allison Mayfield, chairman of the Texas railroad commission with R. V. Davidson, attorney general, and Claude Pollard, assistant attorney general of the state of Texas, countersigned the paper.

The complaint undertakes to compare the alleged cost of maintenance and operation of the railroads with the actual cost, and the claimed indebtedness, which is supposed to justify the increase, with the actual indebtedness. The railroad commission of Texas, it appears, has appraised the cost of construction and operation of the roads as well as the actual indebtedness upon which the rates may be fairly based.

Eight freight schedules which have recently been filed with the commission are made the basis of the complaint, and all are claimed to have been brought about by an unlawful agreement between the defendant carriers and the Southwestern Traffic association of which they are members, or whose members represent, through power of attorney, those who are not.

It declares that the increased rates will fall primarily upon the commodities of prime utility and daily necessity; that they will seriously disturb trade relations, causing loss to shippers and the consuming public.

BOILER BLOWS UP; EIGHT DEAD.

Terrific Explosion in a Rolling Mill at York, Pa.

York, Pa.—Eight men were killed, nearly a score of others more or less seriously injured and thousands of dollars' worth of property damaged by the explosion of a boiler in the York rolling mill late Monday afternoon.

The shock was so terrific that it demolished a large portion of the mill and sent heavy pieces of twisted iron and metal in all directions. The plant of the Broome, Schmidt & Steacy company, near the scene of the explosion, was badly damaged, and a horse which was standing 300 yards distant from the mill was instantly killed.

Miss Rowe is number six in the line.

Saratoga Sheriff Accused.

Saratoga, N. Y.—Copies of charges of alleged neglect of duty, for failure to suppress the alleged gambling at Saratoga Springs, with a request for his removal from office, were served upon Sheriff John Bradley, Jr., of Saratoga county, Monday night by Ben Smith, stenographer to Gov. Hughes. Sheriff Bradley is summoned to appear in his own defense in the executive chamber at Albany on August 17, at three p. m. The governor has directed Sheriff Bradley to file his answer to the charges by that time.

Discharged Because Doctors Could Not Cure.

Levi P. Brockway, 8, Second Ave., Anoka, Minn., says: "After lying for five months in a hospital I was discharged as incurable, and given only six months to live. My heart was affected, I had smothering spells and sometimes fell unconscious. I got so I couldn't use my arms, my eyesight was impaired and the kidney secretions were badly disordered. I was completely worn out and discouraged when I began using Dr. D. Kidney Pills, but they went right to the cause of the trouble and did their work well. I have been feeling well ever since."

Strictly Fresh Eggs.

There are summer resorts, remote from any agricultural communities, where fresh farm products are even harder to obtain than in the city. It was at such a place that the now boarder, who had eaten four or five breakfasts there, began to wonder why the eggs were invariably served fried.

"See here?" he inquired one morning of the gaudy colored man who waited upon him, "why do you always fry eggs here? Don't you ever boil them?"

"Oh—oh, yes, ash!" responded the waiter, pleasantly. "Of course, yo' kin have 'em boiled, if yo' wants 'em. But you know, ash, yo' takes de risk!"

A collection of anecdotes of musical celebrities just published at Leipzig contains this one under the head of Anton Rubinstein. When the great pianist was making his tour of the United States he sat one day in a railroad train looking out upon the scenery. Suddenly a man sitting across the aisle spat over Rubinstein's head out of the open window. The master drew back and gazed in astonishment and anger at the vulgar American, who smiled and said, soothingly: "Don't worry; I know my distance."

ALMOST A SHADOW.

Gained 20 lbs. on Grape-Nuts.

There's a wonderful difference between a food which merely tastes good and one which builds up strength and good healthy flesh.

It makes no difference how much we eat unless we can digest it. It is not really food to the system until it is absorbed. A Yorkstate woman says:

"I had been a sufferer for ten years with stomach and liver trouble, and had got so bad that the least bit of food such as I then knew, would give me untold misery for hours after eating."

"I lost flesh until I was almost a shadow of my original self and my friends were quite alarmed about me."

"First I dropped coffee and used Postum, then began to use Grape-Nuts although I had little faith it would do me any good."

"But I continued to use the food and have gained twenty pounds in weight and feel like another person in every way. I feel as life had truly begun anew for me."

"I can eat anything I like now in moderation, suffer no ill effects, be on my feet from morning until night. Whereas a year ago they had to send me away from home for rest, while others cleaned house for me, this spring I have been able to do it myself all alone."

"My breakfast is simply Grape-Nuts with cream and a cup of Postum, with sometimes an egg and a piece of toast, but generally only Grape-Nuts and Postum. And I can work until noon and not feel as tired as one hour's work would have made me a year ago."

BEGINNING EARLY.

"I have already promised ion cousins to marry them. I can see I shall never get through all my divorces."

NO CHANCE TO BUNKO HIM.

City Youngster Too Well Aware of the Wiles of Grifters.

The baseball evangelist, the eloquent Billy Sunday, sold during the revival services at Sharon, Pa.:

"Keep good company. Nothing does the young more harm than bad society. Only yesterday a farmer told me about a youngster of six or seven, a little country wicker, who had as suspicious and mistrustful a heart as some old miser or crook."

"This boy was sent by a charity society to spend a week at the farmer's. The farmer set out to meet him, but was late. He ran into him half-way to the farm, trudging along the white road, a big burlap bag of luggage on his little bony shoulder.

"The farmer held out his hands for the burlap bag.

"I'll carry it, son, he said. It's too heavy for you."

"Go on!" said the little boy fiercely. "Clear out now, or I'll call a cop."

Monotony of Home Life.

So many wives complain of the monotony of marriage. They envy women who write, paint or act, because they imagine all these callings spell infinite variety. But any life can become monotonous if people allow it to be so. Wives who grumble at the dreary sameness of home routine forget that their husbands have to face the same tiresome monotony at the office. The only way to get out of the "rut" for wife or bachelor maid alike is to cultivate interests and hobbies. Marriage is monotonous only for those who make it so.

August time tells on the nerves. But that spiritless, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves," then the stomach, heart and kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by J. H. Swan.

A Unique Cat

Horace Elliott has a handsome shag cat which he would not sell for love or money, and which is quite a curiosity. She was never known to catch a rat or mouse or anything else, and Mr. Elliott has recently found out what the trouble is. You, of course, have heard of cross-eyed cats. Well, this one is so much that way that when she attempts to catch anything she jumps in the opposite direction—Rockland (Me.) Opinion.

"Who was that fool you bowed to?"
"My husband."

"Oh! I'er—I humbly apologize."

"Never mind; I'm not angry. But what a keen observer you are!"

Realizing the folly of any physiognomy explanations she replied: "No, dear, it is all in one pleco."

Still a quizzical expression o'er-spreads his face. Peering at his mother's forehead, he raised his finger and exclaimed: "Well, mother, I really think you have a seam across there."

After the humor of the remark had passed it awakened a note of pathos, for that mother, with the aid of the mirror, discovered that the hitherto unobserved seam was there, her first wrinkle.
